The Amazing People of ISC...

When Gertie Holle and Janet Klie, members of Zion UCC in Hoyleton, attended the Illinois South Conference Annual Meeting last fall, they were concerned about the budget cuts to DuBois Center and the Uni-Pres Kinder Cottage. They and the members at Zion UCC in Hoyleton have a great passion for these two facilities. In addition to a part of their regular offerings going for these places, they approached the Council with the idea of doing a Noisy Offering once a month for them. The Council gave their blessings and they did that last November and December. This went over so well with the Congregation that during 2017 they will do the Noisy Offering each week. Two or three of the young people pass an offering container and people are asked to drop their change (dollars and checks too) in. So far about $50 a month is collected for each agency. Not much each Sunday, but those coins sure add up over the year. Thanks Janet and Gertie for following the message of that Annual Meeting and implementing this 2nd Mile Giving opportunity at Zion.

Zion UCC in Central City is excited to announce that during their Annual Congregational Meeting on January 22, the Congregation voted to become an official Open and Affirming Church.

In her book Story Time at the Altar, Christian educator, and author, Elaine Ward has penned a poignant story about the loneliness of choosing to fight. This is the story she tells.

"There once was a boy who was always fighting. If someone accidentally touched him, he hit them with his fist. If someone called him a funny name, he kicked them. If someone laughed at him, he beat up on them. After a while, the others learned to fight back, and the boy came home lonely, with bruises and bad feelings.

One day someone asked, "Why do you want to fight?"

"To show I am stronger than anyone else!" The boy clenched his fists.

"Does that make you feel good?" asked the other, as he ran.

The boy asked himself, "Does fighting make me feel good? Of course, winning is good. But winning is lonely."

The next time a child made a face at him, he began to beat up on him, and the voice said, "Turn the other cheek." The boy turned his head the other way and continued hitting the other.

"No, silly, I mean if someone hits you on one cheek, turn the other, so he can hit that one, too."

The boy was so surprised by such a silly suggestion; he stopped fighting long enough to laugh. The more he thought about it, the harder he laughed. He laughed so loud the others heard him and began to laugh. Soon everyone was laughing, and it felt so good to be laughing together that the boy laughed even longer.

"This is better than fighting!" he thought. Since that day, whenever anyone calls him a funny name, he laughs, remembering the silly, but wise advice someone gave him long ago."

This week's lectionary text from the Gospel of Matthew (Matthew 5:38-48) includes "silly" suggestions that Jesus made, such as "if anyone strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other also" and "if anyone wants to sue you and take your coat, give your cloak as well." In the ancient world, such suggestions sounded silly. In our world, a world that upholds winning at all costs as the ultimate achievement, Jesus' suggestions sound down right ludicrous.

Yet, as the boy in Ward's story reveals, winning feels good in the moment, but, in the end, it is lonely. When we choose being right, being first, or being on top, we often choose it over relationships. The wisdom and truth of Jesus' suggestion of "turning the other cheek" comes down to choosing to invest in the relationship. When we fight with one another, nothing good and fruitful emerges. Relationships wilt and perish in the darkness of discord and strife, whereas, our relationships will bloom and grow in the light of harmony and unity. "Turning the other cheek" means choosing love and grace over fighting.

I encourage you to think about this the next time you are tempted to pour your time and energies into battling others. What will really be gained? More importantly, what will be lost? Remember winning is good, but winning is also lonely!

Blessings, Shana

Faith Formation for Clergy and Lay

You are invited to an experiential learning event sponsored by the Faith Formation team of the United Church of Christ on March 29. Discussions about intergenerational ministry abound in our churches today and studies show the importance of positive intergenerational relationships on the faith formation of our children and youth. Yet churches are finding that building these intergenerational relationships is easier said than done. This event, Logos, will introduce you to a program designed to create intergenerational relationships in your church as well as teach your kids Bible study and worship skills.

LOGOS - is a weekly intergenerational experience for young people that creates an arena where all ages, together, can learn about, experience, and practice the art of Christian relationships, critical for developing life-long disciples.

People with Life Concerns

- Hold the family of Amy Dillon in your prayers as they mourn her death. Amy was the sister-in-law of Amber Rhodes, member of Central City Zion UCC, the ISC Region Convener, and a member of the ISC Justice & Witness Team.

- Keep Dorothy Edwards in your prayers as she deals with health issues. Dorothy is a member of the East St. Louis Good Shepherd of Faith and the mother of Pastor Norma Patterson.

- Keep Rev. Marvin (Dorothea) Engelsdorfer in your prayers as he deals with health issues. Rev. Engelsdorfer has been very active in the Conference and his son, Rev. Ted is also a pastor. Cards may be sent to him at 122 Wild Rose Dr, Belleville, IL 62221.

- Pray for Pastor Dennis Gilbert as he deals with health issues. Cards may be sent to 3305 Joyce Dr. Belleville, IL 62226.

Churches in Transition

- Seeking a part-time Pastor St. John UCC, Evansville. St. John is a traditional church with a charm which one can find in a small town. The congregation is small and friendly and is looking for a pastor who will challenge the congregation, with sensitivity to their context. If interested, contact Tom Zweigart, St. John's church council president, at home, 618-853-4075, or on his cell at 618-792-5491.

At this Inspiring Model of Ministry you'll participate in an evening of Logos at St. John's United Church of Christ in Chesterfield, MO and then have a chance to reflect on what you experienced, have a chance to ask questions of the Logos' leaders, and ruminate on how you might bring this innovative practice back to your own ministry setting. This event is not primarily designed for clergy. Your church could send children's ministry/youth faith formation staff or volunteers to experience the retreat and report back on the experience.

Cost for the event is $25 per person and dinner is included. A limited number of scholarships are available to help defray travel costs for the event. For more information and to register, click here. If you have other questions please contact me at beckwithi@ucc.org or at 216-736-3875.

Hope to see you in Missouri on March 29. Click here for a flyer.

Rev. Ivy Beckwith, UCC Faith Formation Minister and Team Leader

Statistics for your church are due for the UCC Yearbook.

Illinois South Conference churches have always had 90+% of the churches turning in their membership, attendance, financial and ministerial support information each year. We're hoping you will be one of those churches to do just that. If you plan to do it online, the drop dead deadline is Wednesday, March 8. After that, online will be locked. If you want us to do it for you, we need the worksheet by Monday, February 20. It is difficult to know who has done it online unless you send us a report or just a note to say it is done. For those who have already sent their reports...woohoo! If you haven't yet, we know you will soon. Thanks so much. Lynnette.

of the United Church of Christ

Meet our Summer Staff!

Now introducing another member of our 2017 summer staff...Esme Trevelyan! Esme is returning to DuBois Center for a second summer as a Counselor/Activity Specialist. She is very excited "to see some of [her] campers and friends, to sing crazy songs about Oreos and to be a part of the magic of camp again." Esme has always loved working with children and youth. In Essex, England, where Esme grew up, she volunteered at church with children's programs, youth groups and for summer holiday clubs. Her favorite thing about summer camp at DuBois Center is "...the idea of a smaller camp... it helps us give a more personal experience to campers. I love seeing how much campers can blossom in just one week." When not at camp, Esme studies Social Sciences at the University of Bath in Bath, England. In her free time, she loves to travel. Esme has been to 11 different countries- her favorite trip being a three-month adventure around Australia.

The "HOW TOs" of International Staff

We are often asked, "How do you find your international staff? How does it work?" Well, we begin with three organizations: Eden Seminary, Camp America and CCUSA (Camp Counselors USA). Camp America is related to the American Institute For Foreign Study (AIFS); CCUSA is an independent organization. Both are approved by the US Department of State and both have been serving camps for over 30 years. Eden Seminary has a strong international component. Because their students are already in the USA and hold valid visas, the application and interview process are very similar to those for other local applicants. Camp America and CCUSA recruit internationally on our behalf. They receive and review applications and references, perform background checks and conduct interviews. The applications of those who clear this extensive process are placed on the recruiting organization's website. We search these sites for individuals who might be a good fit for DuBois Center. Our top priorities are candidates who are Christian, have solid experience and either are or have the potential to become lifeguards. We also prefer applicants who are 19 years or older. If they play the guitar - that's a bonus! After selecting applicants to interview, they are sent a packet with lots of information about DuBois Center, our mission and program. Then an interview is conducted online via Skype. Afterwards, the interviewers discuss the candidate and decide whether to extend an invitation or not. Then regular communication via email begins, which includes additional orientation and even some online training. We want our international staff to feel as welcome and prepared as possible when they arrive at DuBois Center.

Volunteer NURSES Needed Spend 3-6 Days at DuBois Center

Share your skills and make a difference! Camp Nurses, most of whom are RNs, play a key role in providing safe and fun experiences during DuBois Center summer camps. Many find it to be a very rewarding opportunity for ministry; one that is quite different than their regular jobs. Camp nurses review camper medical forms, conduct health screenings, administer medications, and provide first aid, basic medical treatment and extra TLC for homesick campers. The nurse's living quarters are air-conditioned, and it's not all work and no play. There is often time to sit back and read a good book, take a hike or dip your toes in the lake. For more information about this ministry opportunity, contact Shirley at dcinfo@DuBoisCenter.org or 618-787-2202.

Summer Camp Brochures Hot off the Press!

Join us for a few hours on a Sunday afternoon, a couple days during the week or a full week of camp.
