People won't care...

A couple of years ago in my hometown, a local celebrity died and the local newspaper printed stories of remembrance about the man. Many of the stories were simply about how he had been there in some of the most important times of their lives. Young people recalled how he helped them celebrate their 16th birthdays.

Older people recalled how he had calmed their nerves before taking the test. People of every generation recalled how special he made them feel and what a delight it was to simply be in his presence. What did he do for a living? He was the photographer at the Secretary of State Facility in Peoria, Illinois. In other words, he was the person at the DMV who took your picture for your driver's license. His position was not one of high stature, and it certainly was not a high paying job. So, what led to his fame? What made him a household name? It was how he treated people. When you walked into the door, he greeted you with a broad smile and a twinkle in his eye. You felt like he was genuinely glad to see you and glad you were there. When he engaged you in conversation, he focused completely on you and the conversation. He put you at ease. He listened. In addition, when he said goodbye, he called you by name. Most importantly, when he took your picture, he walked you through the steps of how to get the best picture. He made you laugh and look natural. If he thought the first take was not your best, he would take another picture and let you see it before he printed your license. He made you feel special because you felt like he understood it was not a petty, shallow thing to want a good picture on your driver's license. He understood many people would see your driver's license picture. He knew you would have your driver's license a while before renewal, and he wanted you to have a good picture on it. Whenever we talk about hospitality in the church, I often think of him. Just recently, I received some literature about a week-long seminar for how to train church greeters and hospitality teams. The goal was to create good first impressions and to create an environment in your church where people feel welcomed. Although I agreed with the goal, I did not think it would necessitate a week-long seminar in order to accomplish it. To me, hospitality comes down to a basic concept - how do you make others feel in your presence? Do they genuinely feel that you are glad to see them, and you are glad they are there? Do they feel like you notice them? Do they feel like you have time for them? Do they get a sense that you understand or are willing to listen and learn about the things that are important to them? Do they feel like they would have a place among you...a place of belonging, acceptance, joy and love? Honestly, this is what most people are looking for when they walk through the doors of your church. Remember the saying, "People won't care how much you know until they know how much you care." I think we could adapt this in the church to "People won't care"....about your worship services, your programs, your ministries, or your church UNTIL "they know how much you care"...that they are there; they are in need; they are looking for a place to belong; or that you see them as a child of God worthy of love and acceptance. If you can show them, how much you care, they will remember, and it will be a lasting impression. Blessings, Shana

Deadline for UCC Yearbook Statistics Is Tomorrow - March 8

Illinois South Conference churches have always had 90+% of the churches turning in their membership, attendance, financial and ministerial support information each year. We're hoping you will be one of those churches to do just that. If you plan to do it online, the drop dead deadline is Wednesday, March 8. After that, online will be locked for churches but still open for the Conference. Send your information to lschuepbach@iscucc.org or 1312 Broadway, Highland, IL 62249 and Lynnette will enter it for you.

It is difficult to know who has done it online unless you send us a report or just a note to say it is done. Atta-girl or Atta-boy for those who have already sent their reports! If you haven't yet, we know you will soon. Thanks so much.

The Website Is Coming Back!!

Because of the malware on our site, we have moved it completely AND are rebuilding it. It will give us a fresh start, but does require some time to get it all up again. The domain is the same...www.iscucc.org, but the look is different. There is a link to print the Weekly Connection on the front page, since that seemed to be an immediate issue.

There will be a specific page for each church...eventually. But for now, there is just the main contact information. There is a space in the email on purpose to discourage spammers from picking up the email listings. Please take a look at your church's information. Let me know if there is something I need to change or update. The contact pages are not coming through yet. We're still figuring out the glitches there.

We will be adding the resources page next, but the ISC Directory and the Weekly Connection are available under the Resources tab.

Since this website allows for blogging, we are reprinting Shana's message in the Weekly Connection on the blog. This way more people can view it even if they do not receive the Weekly Connection.

We appreciate your patience in seeing the information on our site again. If you have suggestions for improvement, please share with Lynnette at lschuepbach@iscucc.org.

A Ministry of Illinois South Conference of the United Church of Christ

SEE YA, LEAH!

Our sixth Outdoor Ministry Intern, Leah Juenger, has come to the end of her internship. Leah Juenger fell in love with DuBois Center as a part-week camper when she was very young. She attended summer camp each year growing up, graduated from our CIT program, worked as a camp counselor in 2013 and 2014, took on more responsibility as a village coordinator after graduating from college in 2015, and then moved into the internship in September 2015. All these experiences have left Leah with what she knows will be a life-long passion for DuBois Center and the ministry it provides. Over the past 18 months, Leah has gained skills in program development, staff supervision, and administrative duties such as writing and proofing promotional materials and using Excel. Throughout the internship, she also integrated her love of yoga into DuBois Center programming - which she assures us she will continue for retreats whenever she's available. On the last day of her internship, Leah packed up and headed to Chicago for a yoga conference, where she will complete her journey to become a 200-hour certified yoga instructor. In the coming months, Leah will be leading yoga classes, serving a few hours a week at DuBois Center and training for her summer assistantship with a company called Bricks 4 Kidz. She admits that spending the summer months somewhere other than DuBois Center is a foreign concept, but she feels prepared for this next adventure. Although, we will miss working with her on a daily basis - especially her welcoming smile, attention to detail, focus on summer staff recruitment and training and willing spirit - we know this isn't goodbye; it's "See ya later!"

Meet our Summer Staff

Announcing Kalie Vyers as the 2017 Lead Counselor! From Belleville, Illinois, Kalie grew up as an active member of Damascus Road Fellowship, where her father is the pastor. She has always enjoyed working with children - having gone on mission trips to orphanages in Mexico, working with day camps, earning a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education, and currently working as a missionary with a preschool through a church program in Tahoe City, California. Kalie's relationship with DuBois Center began as a camper when she was 12 years old. She recalled, "I always looked up to my counselors and knew that one day I wanted to be just like them." Kalie graduated from our CIT (counselor in training) program, and volunteered at DuBois Center in 2011, 2012 and 2015.

She dedicated her summers to being on summer staff in 2013, 2014, and 2016. She is excited to be back again in 2017 because "Being a counselor is the best job I have ever had. I enjoy getting to meet children with many different lifestyles and personalities. It feels great to be able to give them the wonderful camp experience that I always loved to have when I was a kid." This summer Kalie has agreed to be our Lead Counselor - a position that only appears occasionally when an individual has extensive experience and skills to share with newer leaders, but prefers to spend most of their time working directly with campers. When not at camp, Kalie loves to be outdoors - hiking, skiing, playing basketball and engaging in all kinds of water activities. She also enjoys painting, and playing cards and board games with friends and family.

CALLING ALL QUILTERS!

For over a decade, a quilt drawing has been a significant piece of the annual DuBois Center Fall Festival. In recent years, we have been blessed to have two or more art quality quilts each year which together have raised $1500-$2400 annually. The quilts are donated by local church quilting groups and other friends of DuBois Center. Specifications: queen-size, appealing to a wide audience and made with love and prayers. Ideally, the quilts begin traveling to local churches in August, so a July completion date works well. If you or your quilting group might be interested in donating a work-of-art quilt for the 2017 Fall Festival, please contact the DuBois Center office at dcinfo@DuBoisCenter.org or 618-787-2202. We'd love to talk to you about the possibilities.
