Humility, Patience, Love

I remember one pastor fresh from seminary, fresh from being ordained, asked me as we were robing up for their installation service, “Shana, when do you really know you are their pastor?”

My immediate answer to the question was, “When you have been with them in a moment when no one other than a pastor was needed and required. It could be a moment of joy or a moment of sorrow, but they needed you and you showed up with the love of God. Then they will turn to you and call you their pastor.”

This question reminds us of the question posed in the classic children’s story “The Velveteen Rabbit.”

In the story, a boy receives a stuffed rabbit toy made of velveteen material for Christmas. The more mechanical and expensive nursery toys looked down on the Velveteen Rabbit and pretended they were real.

One night the Velveteen Rabbit asked the Skin Horse, a toy which had lived in the nursery the longest, “How do toys become real?”

“Real isn’t how you are made,” said the Skin Horse. “It’s a thing that happens to you. When a child loves you for a long, long time, not just to play with, but loves you, then you become Real.”

“Does it hurt?” asked the Rabbit.

“Sometimes,” said the Skin Horse, for he was always truthful. “When you are Real you don’t mind being hurt.”

“Does it happen all at once, like being wound up,” he asked, “or bit by bit?”

“It doesn’t happen all at once,” said the Skin Horse. “You become. It takes a long time. That’s why it doesn’t happen often to people who break easily, or have sharp edges, or who have to be carefully kept. Generally, by the time you are Real, most of

She and Herb were also members of St Paul's UCC in Freeburg. Miriam’s obituary can be found here. Condolences may be your hair has been loved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby. But these things don’t matter at all, because once you are Real you cannot be ugly, except to people who don’t understand.”

For me, there is so much wisdom and beauty in this excerpt about the nature of genuine relationships. There is so much wisdom and beauty in this message for us as the Church, especially what makes us REAL authentic communities of faith.

It is not about playing church, following a prescribed outline of carrying out what we think we “should” do, but rather responding to each moment in our life together with the love and grace to discern, with the help of God, what is needed.

If there was only one thing I could name that the last 15 months have taught us, I would name the ways it has taught us we could not rely on doing things we used to do or moving and working independently of one another. We realized we needed each other to survive. There was a rawness and reality which emerged replacing what we “should” do with what we could do.

In this last year, especially in the most uncertain times, things got REAL. And I think the REAL purpose of being the Church was re-revealed to us. When considering such questions as “How does one live a life that most fully reflects Christ?” or “How does a faith community, a local church fully live into its purpose?”, the apostle Paul had these simple words to offer:

“Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love. Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace.”—Ephesians 4:3-4

For those of you who are quick to say it’s not that simple, please believe me when I say IT IS! In my role as a conference minister, I have seen a lot, I have heard a lot, and I have experienced a lot about what happens in every local church. With the help of God’s wisdom and guidance, I have tried to help churches and pastors navigate the tumultuous waters of the frustrations, conflicts, misunderstandings, disappointments, and hurts that can arise in local churches.

Let me share with you that no one calls me to explain a conflict in their church that has arisen because the pastor was being too humble, patient, and loving with the congregation OR the congregation was being too humble, patient, and loving with the pastor and each other. Conflict does not arise when each member is making every effort to strive to build up one another in love. And believe me, no church loses members and potential new members because people could not stand how humble the people were or how much LOVE they felt from everyone.

Humility, patience, and love—Friends it IS that simple. This is why Paul, later in this passage, explains that when LOVE is expressed and spoken, the body of Christ is strengthened.

While there are so many unanswered questions about what lies ahead for the future of any church, the truth is there is only ONE common way God calls us to BE the Church together. That is to recognize, believe, and live out that there is ONE body, ONE Spirit, ONE hope to which you are called, ONE Lord, ONE faith, ONE baptism which holds you together, grows and builds up the body of Christ. This one thing is LOVE.

May you experience what it means to LOVE one another the way God LOVES YOU.

Reasons to volunteer to restore homes in Eastwick (Philadelphia)

Here are some reasons to volunteer to help Tropical Storm Isaisia’s survivors in Philadelphia's Eastwick community restore their homes:

- The elderly couple rescued from their flooding home just in time as water rose around their necks. Physically unable to climb their stairs to safety, they sat holding hands as they awaited their fate.
- The elementary schooler who now panics every time it rains, asking his mom, “Will that man come with his boat to get us again? I’m scared, mommy.”
- The Katrina survivor who relocated to Pennsylvania and felt safe until flooding there forced a harrowing evacuation through a second-floor window.

United Church of Christ Disaster Ministries is recruiting volunteers to lend a hand to 50 Philadelphia families still struggling to recover from Tropical Storm Isaias, which flooded their homes nine months ago.

UCC Partner in Service Judy Moore (isaiasrecoveryvolunteers@gmail.com or 802-299-8290) is managing recruitment of disaster recovery volunteers for Eastwick. Click on this link to see all current UCC Disaster Recovery and Mission Trip Opportunities.

What Pride Month and Camp Have in Common
Every year in June, we celebrate Pride month, a special time to recognize the lives, achievements, and history of the LGBTQIA+ community. I first attended a pride event in 2014, when I was not quite “out of the closet” and was longing for a place to be included – a theme we explore in our summer camp curriculum “This is Our Prayer”. What I found at this event was shocking to me – I learned that I was part of a community that was celebrating their wholeness, accepting people wherever they were on their journeys, and telling the world that they would no longer be treated as second class citizens simply for being who they were created to be. For many years, I had struggled with a cognitive misperception of Pride, believing fully that “pride goes before the fall”. What I have learned in my continued journey as a member of the LGBTQIA+ community is that the Pride we celebrate has nothing to do with arrogance, but instead is about rejecting the shame that many of us were taught to feel about the people that we are. Pride is about celebrating our stories, and the immovability of our community.

At my first pride event, I realized that feeling of acceptance for being exactly who I am had been rare in my life up until that point, but that the first place I had ever felt it was summer camp. Camp allows kids the space to bring their goofy, whole selves to every activity, conversation, and cabin. In a world that can sometimes shame kids for their curiosity and behavior that does not conform to a societal "norm", camp is a place where we celebrate each other’s quirkiness.

I am forever grateful that I stumbled into that first pride event in 2014, and that I found open and affirming churches shortly thereafter with whom to attend Pride events every year since. I am also grateful to spend Pride month in 2021 at DuBois Center, celebrating every camper that comes through our gate.

At DuBois Center, we are working each day to build a more comprehensively inclusive environment. From Frank conversations including subjects from the way things have been named in the past that may create exclusion to planning for a busy Rainbow Camp on August 7, we are looking forward to leveling up our inclusive practices.

I am looking forward to joining you all in the journey toward celebrating the wholeness of God’s human creations! Hayley Elliott, Acting Director.
Camp Schedule
Days at DuBois Center are filled with fun, laughter and a variety of activities. Our camp sessions have lots in common, including many classic camp activities. A number of these can be adapted for different age groups. Some however, such as archery and canoeing, are reserved for older campers. Click here to see the schedule.

The Magic of DuBois Center
by Becky Harrison, Secretary at St. Paul UCC, Lebanon
It was scheduled for Sunday, May 2, 2021. A Jr/Sr High Youth outing to DuBois Center. Lot’s of planning and effort went in to picking a date (no small task), coordinating with DuBois Center staff, deciding on a mission project (thank you, Nancy Wagner), gathering supplies, and coordinating a worship and communion service with Pastor Don. Kids and parents alike were so looking forward to getting back to DuBois, or going for the first time. Weather forecasters predicted a comfortable, sunny day, so all was right with the world . . . until a few days later. The forecast changed dramatically from warm and sunny to cool, overcast and rainy. All the planning in the world couldn’t keep the weather from changing. Then, a couple of people had to cancel. Drat!

When the day finally came, I felt excited, but anxious. Had I remembered everything? Were we going to get all the way down there and get rained out? Were the kids going to bored? Were the adults going to be bored? Could the weather have cooperated—at the very least? Was any of this worth the effort? Should I just stay home and take a nap?

After a 1/2 hour delay getting started due to a miscommunication on my part (another sign, perhaps?) we pressed on, and forty-five minutes later we pulled into the entrance of DuBois Center and saw the sign above welcoming our group. We parked, unloaded our haul and made the short walk to Oak Lodge. Inside the lodge, we parked the wagon full of cleaning supplies, our coolers full of goodies for lunch, and I gave a brief rundown of the plans for the day, still wondering what important items I surely had forgotten. Everyone took a moment to get settled in and visit the facilities before we got ready for lunch and the rest of the day’s activities.

After taking a moment to let out a big sigh of relief, I walked through one of the back doors of the lodge leading out to the huge covered patio. As soon as that screen door “whapped” shut behind me and I had a moment to look out over the lake, it happened. With each step I took, it felt like 50 lb. weights fell off of my shoulders. The anxiety fell away, my aggravation at local weather forecasters fell away, if I forgot something—who cared? That, my friends, is the magic of DuBois Center—in the nutshell. No matter how stressed and anxious I am, no matter how irritating highway drivers were on the trip down, no matter all of the other unpleasant things going on in life, it all just melts away when I step on that back porch! We Need You - We’re Not Done Yet!!
The DuBois Center office needs your help to replace the DuBois Center office flooring.
An office update, started in late 2017, needs to be finished. Currently the four types of office flooring are uneven; some areas may be old asbestos tiles; and some areas are down to the sub-floor. The cost is just under $9,000. The new flooring materials and installation has been approved by the Conference Council Executive Committee. Donations of money, time or installation skills are welcomed from individuals, churches and/or their organizations. Checks should be made payable and sent to the ISC office at 1312 Broadway, Highland IL 62249 with a notation that it is for the flooring or click here to donate online. If your group plans to donate or raise money to donate to this, please contact Julie at 618-357-1809 or email jriechmann@iscucc.org. Thank you very much for your support.

The Open and Affirming Coalition of the United Church of Christ announces that June 27 is National Open and Affirming Sunday. ONA Sunday is an opportunity for congregations to celebrate Pride Month and reaffirm their commitment to inclusion and justice for their LGBTQIA+ neighbors. The Coalition offers a complete worship video, with music, and resources for worship at this link. Please be sure to credit the ONA Coalition. ONA Sunday is also an opportunity for members of your congregation to recite your Open and Affirming Covenant as an act of faith after the sermon and make a re-commitment to uphold those values through mission, ministry, and advocacy. In this year, when legal maneuvering and state legislation are threatening LGBTQIA+ rights across the country, your neighbors need to know that your faith impels you to action.

The Insurance Board presents a webinar, “Liability Lowdown for your ministry: Protecting Your Congregation from Abuse” on Thursday, June 17 at 1 pm CDT. The church should be a safe place for people to worship, work, connect and receive care and support in a manner that is free from abuse. Attorney James Abbott offers considerations your ministry can take to provide a safe environment for everyone. Also Insurance Board’s very own, Cy McFarlin, Director of Claims Administration, and Monroe Moore, Senior Claims Analyst, will be on hand to discuss claim trends impacting ministries within the denominations we serve.
